Axelrod Property Is Taken

The selectmen Monday night voted to acquire for school purposes the Axelrod and Forbes properties off Lowell street.

The property, which borders the present Sanborn school property, is one of three sites approved for acquisition at the March town meeting.

The selectmen voted to obtain the Axelrod property for $67,000 and the Forbes property, consisting of 2.47 acres, for $740.

John Axelrod asked the board when the town intended to build a new school on the property, to which Chairman Robert A. Waters replied whenever the school department so requests.

Axelrod said that in view of this wouldn't it be more feasible for the town to leave the property as is for potential industrial development to aid the tax base.

Waters replied that the area was not so zoned at present and with that, the board took the action as prescribed by Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien.

Substantial Jump In Tax Rate

Andover's tax rate took another substantial jump this year, up $7 over the 1969 rate, it was announced this week by the assessors.

The 1970 rate, approved by the state Department of Corporations and Taxation, will be $46.

It had been predicted that the rate would jump as much as $8 at the annual town meeting, but increased valuation aided in the saving of one dollar this year.

New school construction, bonded indebtedness and overall increased costs were among the factors in the third substantial tax rate increase in the past three years.

The breakdown of the rate shows that the school budget takes up $26.34 of the total, while the general government account consumes $19.66.

In 1969 there was a 26 percent jump in the tax rate, as it went from $31 per thousand to $39. It was predicted at the town meeting in 1969, that the 1970 rate increase would be substantial, due to built-in factors, such as bonding, in the budget.

The 1968 rate of $31 was six dollars higher than that of 1967.

Although the valuation of the town has risen in the past year, and assisted somewhat in keeping the tax rate down, the official figures are not yet completely tabulated.

Musgrove Building Status Quo

The Musgrove building remains closed this week, following the collapse of a portion of the roof two weeks ago.

Some additional work has been done on the building with a crane having returned to the scene last week to remove some portions of the roof.

Building Inspector Arthur Peatman reports that his department is awaiting further work to be done by the owner of the building, Samuel Resnik.

The owner has asked for time to consider the future of the structure.

A board of survey which examined the building last week has made recommendations to the owner for necessary repairs, major ones including roof repairs and lateral bracing of walls.

EDUCATIONAL DAYS. Miss Catherine Barrett, who retires this year as principal of the Central school, was presented a mural depicting her years of service to Andover's public schools at a tea held recently in her honor. Here, Miss Barrett is shown with the mural which will be placed in the school, recently renamed the William A. Doherty school. Miss Barrett completes her several years of educational service in July.

Miss Barrett Honored

Friends, relatives and teachers gathered at the Andover Country Club recently to pay homage to Miss Catherine Barrett.

Miss Barrett has taught in the Andover school system since 1923, first as a teacher and then as a principal of the John Dove, Jackson, and Stowe schools.

When the new Central school opened in the center of Andover, she became the first principal of this school. The Central School Parent-Teachers Organization gave the tea honoring Miss Barrett for her outstanding and dedicated work for the children she worked with.

Mrs. Thomas Darby, who was in charge of the tea, presented former School Committeeman William Doherty, who spoke on the work Miss Barrett has done through the years. A mural showing Miss Barrett with the children, a plaque dedicating the mural in honor of Miss Barrett, and a check were presented to her. The mural and the plaque are now hanging in the entrance of Central school, recently renamed the William A. Doherty school.

The honored guest spoke of the many joys she has had in teaching in Andover. She will retire at the end of July after teaching three generations of Andover children.

Members of the committee for the tea were Mrs. John Carver, Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Mrs. Robert Gardner, Mrs. Leo Morrisette, Mrs. Harry Chase, Mrs. William Ash, Mrs. Laurence Looney, Mrs. Alex Milne, Mrs. Paul Derby, Mrs. Joseph Barrett, Mrs. Bernard Pasquale, and Mrs. Francis Bailey.

Miss Barrett's four sisters were asked to pour during the tea while her niece Miss Patricia Barrett was in charge of the guest book.

Launching Areas Created

Two new launching areas for boats and canoes on the Shaw-sheen River near Route 93 were completed recently by the Explorers of Post 75 and Boy Scouts from Troop 75. The boys cleared the roadway and a large parking area to facilitate access to the town-owned property on the Shaw-sheen River.

The project is being taken on by three explorers as their community service requirements for Eagle Scout. Steven Wilbur is responsible for access to road and picnic areas, Louis Galbiati, 3rd, for the boat launching and parking areas, and Tony Royal for signs, beautification, and conservation. Dr. John Royal, the post leader, indicated that the members of the post will continue to improve town-owned property adjacent to the Shaw-sheen in order to make it usable for the residents. In addition, the locations will be considered for the fall camporee for all boy scouts in the area since it is ideally suited for the purpose.

The town-owned launching area can be reached by following River Street in Ballardvale to the circle at the entrance of the Gillette plant and then taking the rustic gravel road to the entrance road of the parking area adjacent to the river.

More than 245 students received A.B. or B.S. degrees at Elon College's 80th commencement exercises Sunday, May 24, in North Carolina.

Among them was Alvin John Zink, Jr. of 21 Chester St. An English major, Zink was co-editor of The Maroon and Gold, campus newspaper, and was president of the English Union.

EVERYTHING . . .
HAVEN'T WE?"

The best schooling, good clothes, a comfortable home . . . all these are important.

But don't they need answers to the big questions — such as Who is God? What is God? Where is God? What does He have to do with me?

Your children's sense of security and lasting happiness may well depend on being given good and useful answers to these important questions.

In the Christian Science Sunday School, children learn to know God, to feel a closeness to Him, and to turn to Him for the spiritual resources they need to strengthen and enrich their lives.

Isn't this something you would like to give your children? Why not bring them next Sunday morning at (hour and place of Sunday School)

Custodians, School Board Reach Pact

The school committee and the Andover Custodians' Association signed a wage agreement Tuesday night, June 16, which set new vacation agreements, a salary increase of $10 a week for each employee and a service bonus of $100 a year for the second shift employees.

Francis Henrick, president of the association, George Connor, vice president, Higus Asoian, secretary, and Wilford Svenson attended the meeting to sign the agreement with committee members, and express their appreciation of the efforts of Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert and member Mrs. Virginia Cole, in particular, during negotiations.

The new vacation agreement sets vacations at one week for employees of six months duration, two weeks for men employed a full year, with a three week vacation for employees with the system five years, and four weeks vacation for custodians who have been with the school system ten years or more.

School Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert observed the spirit of cooperation and amicability present in the relations of the school committee and the custodians of the town's schools, and the custodians president, Henrick, pointed out that the common aim was the good of the town.

Summertime means fun in the sun and of course the water. But if you're not safety conscious, it can be a time of tragedy. Drowning is the fourth leading cause of accidental death.

To Study In Sweden

An Upsala freshman will leave for Sweden on June 6 as the first step of his transition from the goals of an aero space engineer to "sky pilot."

William Charles Langdell, 21, of 42 Clark Road, will spend the summer working with the Stockholm Diocese of the Church of Sweden. His ultimate goal is to be a priest in Sweden.

Becoming a minister wasn't always Langdell's ambition, however. After he was graduated from Andover High school, he entered the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago, studying to be a mechanical and aero space engineer.

"After one semester I decided that an engineering life just wasn't for me," Langdell said.

He dropped out, worked for a computer service bureau in Cambridge for a year and then attended Upsala College in September of 1969. It was here he decided to become a minister.

A member of the Faith Lutheran Church, Langdell worked with students at the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago. In East Orange he is the organist for the Advent Lutheran Church and he also assists the pastor of the Swedish Seamen's Church of New York City, a mission of the Church of Sweden, serving as a lay reader and acolyte.

Langdell, who is majoring in Scandinavian Studies, will actively participate in Swedish social and church life during his two months in Stockholm.

He will return to Upsala in the fall and in his junior year Langdell will spend a year at the University of Stockholm under Upsala's newly formalized Scandinavian Studies' program. After his graduation from Upsala, Langdell plans to spend four years at divinity school at either the University of Upsala or the University of Lund in Sweden. He then will be a full-fledged priest and plans to become a citizen of Sweden.

Why a minister in Sweden?

"I do have some Swedish heritage," he explained, "and I've done considerable research on Sweden. I also have several friends who are Swedish-American. I'm not expecting paradise there. Sweden has its problems, too, but I'm very confident it's the right place for me."

Langdell is the son of Ellen W. and Charles U. Langdell. His father is an investment counsellor for David L. Babson Associates in Boston.

In May 1969, 5.2 percent of all employed workers held more than one job. Forty-eight percent of the workers with at least two jobs at that time had worked at the second job in each of the preceding 12 months and another 18 percent had worked at the second job in at least 7 to 11 of those months.

What Does the CO-OP Mean by "The Economic Facts of Life"? (No.6)

There are three major phases in the economic life of every responsible man.

For the first 20 years or so he is supported by his family. Next, he supports himself. Sooner or later his economic status permits him to become the support of his own family.

The catalyst which transforms a person from an economic liability into an economic asset is useful WORK.

The key to a satisfying adult life is understanding the law of supply and demand. The demand for highly skilled workers exceeds the supply . . . and vice versa. The greater the skill, the greater the rewards. But also the greater the discipline, training and expense needed to qualify.

Some boys face the discipline of real work rather late.

At the CO-OP we have a number of part-time boys who "get with it" rather young. By bringing a willing attitude to a real job, they soon acquire the discipline and

By Rick Harrison

The Red Sox swept to the 1970 Andover American Little League pennant last week, capping off a fine 13-2 season by edging their nemesis, the defending Town Champion Twins, by a 4-2 score.

This was merely icing on the cake for the Red Sox, who had clinched the title four days earlier. It was the first triumph in three games against the Twins, and gave the Red Sox a six-game winning skein entering the town championship playoffs.

In the only other contest this week to conclude the regular season, the White Sox set a single game scoring record by pounding out a lopsided 17-2 victory over the third-place Tigers.

The American League champion Red Sox met the National League champion Cardinals in the play-off earlier this week. However, the games were played after TOWNSMAN presstime, and complete results will be published in next week's paper.

Manager Dick Neal's Cards completed their second consecutive unbeaten season in National League play, finishing with a perfect 15-0 slate. They have won 41 straight tilts in their own league, with their only losses during that time being two to the Twins in last year's playoffs.

White Sox 17, Tigers 2 -- Both clubs used a host of pitchers in this final game, which meant little of importance to either team.

Jay Lustig was the winning hurler for the White Sox, who ended the year with a 7-8 mark. Timmy Brownlie, who was red-hot in the hitting department towards the end of the campaign, spanked out three more safeties for the Sox.

Tom Henderson also chipped in with a trio of hits for the winners, while Billy McGuire hammered a long triple.

Brian LaPointe, also one of many hurlers, was tagged with the loss for the Tigers. Tiger stars included Danny LaPointe, Bob Hanon and Kurt Anderson.

Red Sox 4, Twins 2 -- The Red Sox finally broke the hex the Twins had on them, as the second-place club had defeated the Sox by 4-0 and 6-0 scores before. These were the same two teams that battled it out for the title last year, with the Twins winning out in a post-season playoff.

A pair of excellent relief performances highlighted this game, as lefty Glenn Verrette of the Twins and righty Ken Loffredo of the Red Sox were almost perfect in three-inning relief stints.

Glenn, who had hurled a no-hitter and one-hitter against the Sox previously, came on for starter and loser Rhett Mundy in the fourth frame. He didn't allow a hit, and fanned five of the nine batters he faced.

Thus, in a total of 15 innings against the Red Sox this year, Verrette allowed just one hit while striking out 26 batters. Mundy, making his first start of the year, surrendered five safeties and whiffed four in three innings.

Loffredo allowed only one hit and fanned four men in his three innings of work. He spelled starter and winner Richard Rosetti, who had given up three hits and whiffed six batters in three frames.

With the victory, Rosetti compiled the top hurling record in the league as far as won-lost percentage goes. He finished at 5-0.

Big stickers for the Sox were catcher Billy Martin with a single and double, Steve Wilkins with two singles and an RBI, and Labeeb Abboud with one single and two RBIs.

For the Twins, lefthander Rhett Mundy starred at the plate with 2-for-4, including a double. Glenn Verrette and Jeff Bragdon chipped in with singles for the losers.

Turning in key defensive efforts for the Sox were "giant" Ricky Meuse at second base, and 10-year-old Paul Rosetti in leftfield.

The Red Sox jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the second, and then iced the decision with a three-run outburst in the third inning. Trailing 4-0, the Twins came up with both of their tallies in the bottom of the third frame.

Next in line, for some of the American League players, will be the District 14 All-Star tournament. The managers of the various teams will select their top two or three players to complete the roster of the 'Star' club, which will then play similar All-Star squads from other cities in the area.

This is a single-elimination tournament, with the survivors continuing on to sectional, state and possibly national competition. Those teams going "all the way" end up in the Little League World Series, which is staged at Williamsport, Pa. during the final week in August.

American Minor

In a dramatic game between the two league leaders, the Senators beat the Athletics last week 3-2 with a fine team effort on both sides. The White Sox were the spoilers this week, climbing from 9th to 7th place with an 8-5 win over the Twins and a 12-11 win over the Yankees. As a result, the Yankees are no longer in contention for the pennant. Despite their defeat, the Twins stayed in the race with an 18-15 extra inning victory over the Orioles. The pennant race will be decided in the final week, with a 3-way tie possible.

Peace Center To Open

Andover's permanent Peace Action Center will open at 14 Park St., across from the fire station, Friday evening, with an open house from 5 - 9 p.m.

The Center, which will thereafter be open on a regular basis, is sponsored by the Andover Peace Action Coordinating Committee -- an amalgamation of local groups seeking an end to the Vietnam war.

Co-Chairmen of the Steering Committee are Arthur Neumark, 90 Elm St., and Rev. Richard M. Woodman, 73 Bradstreet Road, North Andover. Committee members are Mrs. Jane Grant, 62 Osgood St.; Mrs. Thomas Rees, 157 Main St.; Gerald Shertzer, 3 Highland Wayside and David E. Young, 36 Bellevue Road. Thomas Rees serves as treasurer.

The local Center -- one of a growing number in the Bay State -- will provide a wide range of peace-oriented activities and services. Among these, it will serve as a clearing house for local political action and will serve in the same capacity for a large segment of the Fifth Congressional District. The Center also plans to provide educational material, arrange seminars and discussions and to furnish draft counselling service.

In addition to its local activities, the Center will provide contact with area peace groups. Local representatives are:

Fifth Congressional District Citizens' Committee: Arthur Neumark and Gerald Shertzer; Mass PAX: Evelyn Neumark; CPP (Citizens for Participatory Politics), Thomas Rees; AFCS (American Field Service Committee), Richard Wilson; SuMYAP (Summer Ministry to Youth and Adults for Peace), Rev. #### Misbehaving Sun?

How much life does our sun have left? The Hayden Planetarium of Boston's Museum of Science says the sun eventually will run out of hydrogen fuel and ultimately swell up, change color, and become a "red giant," swallowing up the nearest planets, boiling away the earth's oceans, and wiping out life on our world. But, the Planetarium hastens to add, this will not happen for at least another 5 to 10 billion years.

To Seek Hospital Drive Pledges

Special Gifts Chairman B. Allen Rowland of the Bon Secours-Lawrence General Joint Hospital Building Fund announced today that residents of Andover are being asked to pledge at least one half of the $70,000 Special Gifts goal in the Joint Hospital $3,000,000 building fund campaign.

"Joseph B. Doherty is our Special Gifts Chairman for Andover, and already has 34 community leaders working on the solicitation. He is most enthusiastic and confident that Andover will come through with flying colors," stated Mr. Rowland.

At the kick off conducted at the Lanam Club recently the committee selected 159 individuals for personal presentations of the need for the hospitals' construction programs.

15 Recitals Scheduled In Methuen

Fifteen summer organ recitals are scheduled at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall this year starting June 10. Each Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m., the Hall Trustees will sponsor some of the best church and concert organists from this area, playing a variety of organ literature from all periods.

Each week will represent an opportunity to see this 100 year old Boston Music Hall Organ with its unique carved American Walnut case and show pipes. Visitors will have ample opportunity to study the oak panelling, panel of tapestry-like fabric and ornate plaster walls and ceilings.

The full resources of the nearly 6,000 pipes will be explored each week, differently, of course, by each organist.

On June 10, Douglas Risner will open the season. Mr. Risner is organist and choirmaster at the Chestnut Street Congregational Church in Worcester. He is presently Dean of the Worcester Chapter, American Guild of Organists. Douglas Risner received his Bachelor of Music degree from Miami University, and his Master of Music degree plus Artist's Diploma from the New England Conservatory of Music.

An organ student of Eugene Hill and Donald Willing, and a harpsichord student of Daniel Pinkham, he will spend nine weeks in Austria, Switzerland and Germany with an organ study group led by Donald Willing.

Mr. Risner's program on June 10 will include: Fantasia and Fugue in G minor, BWV 542 - Johann Sebastian Bach; Paeon - Kenneth Leighton; Choral No. 1 in E Major - Cesar Franck; Sonata for Organ (Andante-Allegro, Larghetto, Vivace) - Vincent Persichetti; Fantasy on the Chorale, "Wie schon leucht't der Morgenstern", Op. 40, No. 1.

The following Wednesday on June 17, the trustees will present organist Henry Hokans.

Volunteers Grow Crops

Every weekend, a group of youthful volunteer farmers from Weston gather on a huge plot of land at Weston College to grow produce for residents of Boston's inner city. They've been doing it since early spring.

With the encouragement and advice of the Mass. Dept. of Agriculture, the young community farmers of "Project Green Power" are under the expert direction of William H. McElwain of Weston, former market gardener and teacher, and currently Coordinator of Volunteers for the South End Settlement House in Boston.

The first crop, radishes, is expected to be harvested next week. They will be distributed without cost to residents of the Settlement House.

One-and-a-half acres of the 15-acre plot, made available for the project by Weston College, have already been planted with corn, beans, cucumbers, cabbage, beets, carrots, tomatoes, spinach and various kinds of lettuce. Mr. McElwain says all are doing very well. The group plans to have the balance of the acreage seeded early this summer, with successive plantings of a number of the crops.

Eventually the produce will be channeled to a number of cooperative food stores being organized to serve the people of the South End, Roxbury and Cambridge.

In a recent comparative pricing expedition, Mr. McElwain purchased identical items in Roxbury and suburban stores. Of 25 products, all but three, he stated, cost more in the inner city.

The purpose of Project Green Power is to eliminate the wholesaler's mark-up, says Mr. McElwain, thereby reducing the retail price of the produce.

Editorial Comment

Tax Rate

The assessors had had, but expected news for us this week.

As anticipated and could be forecast, the tax rate took another substantial jump.

The rate this year will go from $39 per thousand to $46, an increase of $7. A jump of 18 per cent.

As difficult as it is to accept, unfortunately all indications point toward a continuing trend.

That trend should be examined closely by municipal officials in the months ahead.

We are living in financially perilous times.

Costs continue to soar all around, unemployment continues to rise. Taxes, local, state and federal continue to spiral.

It is imperative to take an accurate measure of the community needs and a time to assure that new programs, buildings, etc., are needed.

Andover has been growing for the past several years, and it is continuing to grow.

This growth will demand additional services, which will require substantial funds.

The time has come for some constructive planning and unification of effort in this direction by all town departments. Some of it has been initiated by the town manager and superintendent of schools since they assumed office this past year.

When the costs of residency reach the point where the young can no longer afford to live in a community, then that municipality begins a rapid decline.

Before Andover reaches that point, it would be wise to examine where we are in municipal costs and where we are going.

School Sites

It would appear to be imperative that the selectmen continue their efforts to obtain properties for new school construction, as requested by the school department.

The board, Monday night, voted to acquire the Axelrod property off Lowell street, for a new elementary school, one of three sites which town meeting in March approved.

Two sites, also approved in March for purchase, have yet to be acted upon.

One is adjacent to the South school, the other off South Main street near Suncrest Road.

We realize that legal matters must be solved and also the old legend that, "the wheels of justice move slowly."

Acceleration of acquisition procedures would appear to be mandatory, since rising costs and increasing value of land in Andover, almost dictates that prompt action is necessary.

Invariably municipal purchase of property varies from private enterprise.

Costs of land alter with relation to the comparative purchaser. To a private person, the price could be one figure, while negotiations with a municipality could bring a completely different figure.

As the days progress, so, in these times, does the cost of the desirable land.

The need for additional school sites is obvious as the town continues to grow. The taxpayers have approved the purchase of three specific locations.

The funds have been provided.

If acquisition can be made soon, possibly some savings could be realized — a rare thing, in this day and age.

Bazaar Days

It's fun time in downtown Andover this weekend.

The annual sidewalk bazaar days will be held Friday and Saturday.

There will be a little bit of something for everybody, not to mention bargains for shoppers in participating stores.

The event has particular meaning for Andover, since the annual observance was started here in Andover and became popular enough for many nearby communities to copy.

Church, civic and fraternal organizations will be sponsoring booths throughout the business district, offering a variety of items.

Band concerts and entertainment to accommodate all ages will be available.

In general, the two-day event offers something for all, and in particular, the fun and hospitality of meeting one another — a trait characteristic of Andover people and their neighbors.

Off The Top
Of The Desk

There are some valiant Mallard Ducks having a ball for themselves in Becky's pond, North Andover.

The little pond, once used to cool rum kegs for Army troops training there, is located in the triangular plot bounded by Chickering Road, Andover Street and Turnpike Street.

What makes the ducks so valiant is that the trio, daily trek to and from their favorite watering hole by crossing Chickering Road, Route 125, a rather busy highway.

The web-footed friends toddle briskly across the highway, challenging traffic, most of the time at peak hours.

That time of year has arrived again.

Between now and September most all of us will experience the shortest two weeks of the year, namely vacation.

Based on the theory expounded for years by a very reliable lady of our acquaintance, one must assume that the most rapid time of the year is approaching.

For as long as memory serves, she has pronounced on the Fourth of July that Labor Day is just around the corner.

Her prophecy certainly has stood the test of time.

We wonder where all the soccer fans are in this area.

Several fans complained last weekend that the national championships in Brazil were shown on national television, but not in the Boston or New England area.

While it is reported that the world title matches would probably be shown at a later date, it seems a little late, since Boston fans failed to support a professional team a year ago.

Soccer is becoming increasingly popular, in the area, and it probably will be but a matter of time before it reaches the point of becoming a prime attraction.

It's never improper to issue a reminder this time of year about water safety.

Hot weather and cool ponds or oceans are synonymous, but they can also be dangerous if proper steps aren't taken to insure that summer time fun doesn't turn to tragedy.

Be cognizant of water safety rules, whether it be swimming, sailing, boating, surfing, fishing, diving, or whatever.

Don't really know what there is about it, but this is a darn good time of year to eat.

The fresh native vegetables are reaching the market places and roadside stands and there's just something extra special about the flavor.

The amount and variety of crops coming in is becoming abundant.

Guess maybe it's just that native New England feeling, but the fresh fruits and vegetables sure have a winning way compared to the canned and frozen varieties.

For those familiar with accounts of weddings, probably the item off a newswire service story this past week, seemed a little unusual.

The wedding announcement contained the words, "they wore matching crutches."

Seems Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Marquis, who were married in Dallas, Texas last week, went down the aisle, she in a gown, he in a tuxedo, but assisted by crutches, since both had broken their legs a few days earlier in a motorcycle accident.

It certainly was a bit encouraging to read some news this past week that Old Glory is in short supply.

The demand for U. S. Flags flown over the White House is so great that Congressmen must wait months to fill requests.

Reports in the Capitol indicate that flag producers are facing unusual demands and unable to meet the requirements.

Manager of the shop in the House of Representatives says he has orders for 3,000 flags and won't be able to meet the orders for four months.

Is this a sign of a return and attentiveness to patriotism?

We hope so.

Circus

The Children's Room is bursting with circus posters and circus books these days. Many of the young readers have participated in the display of animal figures and parade posters, including Jennifer Morton, Edith and Posy Harris, Elizabeth Breckenridge and her sister Sally, and Carol Loscutoff. All of them are regular borrowers of the books in the Children's Room.

Summer Films

About two hundred children enjoyed the film "Kidnapped" at the Central Elementary school auditorium last Thursday. This week, June 25, the film will be "Johnny Tremain." The time is 3 p.m.; admission is free for children in grades 3 through 7 and each child must present his library card at the door.

Large Print Books

Memorial Hall Library has added over 400 large-print books in the past year. These books are for any age reader who has difficulty reading. It may be a 12-year-old or a 70-year-old; the blacker, larger type is easier to see and makes reading a pleasure for the children who have reading difficulties and the older folks whose vision is not what it used to be.

The winner in the fifth grade was Donna Vallas, first place and Donna Contarino, second place.

In the final run-off, Russell Swan was the Grand Champion of the West Elementary school.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

In a recent article in the Andover TOWNSMAN, it was noted that no school sites have yet been acquired.

The membership of the League of Women Voters of Andover agree that school sites should be acquired in anticipation of need.

With the growth of the town, it has become apparent that there is a need to acquire land for future school sites while there is still choice land available.

Further delay may mean further expense. Therefore, we urge the acquisition of the three school sites approved at the March town meeting without further delay.

Innholder License Is Tabled

Action on a request for an innholder's license for Varsity Inn, the former Parker Manor, or Shawsheen Manor property was tabled Monday night by the selectmen.

The request was from Bryant-McIntosh college in Lawrence, who intend to use the facility as part of their motel-hotel training program.

Several abutters of the property spoke in opposition to the granting of the request, which was accompanied by a request for a liquor license.

The college authorities had planned to operate the facility during the summer for travelers and visitors.

Chairman Robert A. Watters said that the state building inspector had made recommendations to the college authorities and repairs must be made before a certificate of occupancy can be issued.

The board decided that no action should be taken on the innholder's license until such time as the building is certified for occupancy.

The petitioners then withdrew their request for a liquor license, since if a hearing had been held, the board is required to act on it within 30 days.

What action the board will take on the innholders license is not known, but indications are that the board will reject the request for a liquor license.

Anniversary Observance Still Planned

Selectman George Heseltine Monday night questioned the value of spending town money on the 325th anniversary of the founding of the town next year.

The March town meeting approved $5,000 in planning funds for the observance.

Heseltine said that he felt the town could spend $5,000 in better areas and that such observances should be saved for either the 350th or 400th anniversary.

Selectman Sidney P. White, who had proposed the idea originally, prior to town meeting, said to Heseltine, "the older you grow the more you want to observe the opportunity to let the country know we exist. Each anniversary marks new history for the town."

Selectman William Stewart, who visited Andover, England a few years ago, remarked that Andover, Mass., was well known in the British namesake community.

Selectman Roger W. Collins said he was in favor of the observance.

With that, the anniversary remains a part of next year's plans, and a planning committee will be named shortly.

The shawl, part of every well-dressed lady's wardrobe in the nineteenth century, will be the subject of the next exhibit in the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum, according to an announcement today.

Thomas W. Leavitt, director, said nearly two dozen shawls drawn from the Museum's 100-piece collection, would be displayed in Gallery III between Sunday, May 31 and Sunday, Sept. 6. The public will be admitted each afternoon between 1 and 5 o'clock at no charge.

The first shawls to appear on the early nineteenth century fashion scene were hand-woven, high-priced products of Kashmir in India. The demand for these exotic Oriental pieces was so great that European manufacturers -- sensing another way to increase their profits -- were soon producing less expensive imitations of the Indian originals. French handweavers, with the aid of the newly-invented Jacquard mechanism (for fancy weaving), and the Scot, who used the same device on power looms, could produce more shawls in less time than the tradition-bound Indians. Their raw materials were not as fine and their designs reflected a tendency to "improve" on the originals for the sake of efficiency, but their products suited the mass market in Europe and America.

Fashion-conscious Americans depended entirely upon imported shawls until 1847 when the Middlesex Mills of Lowell started to produce shawls. A year later the Bay State Mills of Lawrence entered the market. The number of American shawl makers soon multiplied as textile manufacturers attempted to exploit the popularity of the shawl among the middle-class. Soon after the Civil War, if not before, the shawl had become part of the working girl's wardrobe.

The popularity of the shawl may have reached its peak in 1875. A manufacturers' directory for that year lists forty-eight shawl manufacturers in fourteen states. In addition, of course, the upper classes were still importing "better" shawls, especially those made in France, by then the fashion center of the world. Toward the end of the century though shawls fell out of fashion and soon only old ladies dared to be seen wearing them. The few shawls that had not been worn out then went into attics. Eventually, some of these left-overs found their way into museums.

Still to be written is the next chapter in the scientific detective story of the pulsars, says the Hayden Planetarium of Boston's Museum of Science. These mysterious sources of radio signals of unprecedented regularity are one of the most puzzling phenomena in the field of astronomy.

Consumer Survey Due

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by representatives of the Bureau of the Census in this area during July, according to James W. Turbitt, Director of the Bureau's regional office in Boston.

The questions are asked four times yearly as part of a nationwide effort to collect information as a guide to Federal agencies and other groups in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns. A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car, or major appliance during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs during the last three months and any planned for the future.

For the first quarter of 1970, the survey showed an increase in the number of households expecting to buy a used car compared to April 1969; there was no corresponding upswing in new car expectations. Expectations to buy houses remained depressed. Expectations to buy furniture, floor coverings, and home improvements were not significantly different than in April 1969.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law, and will be published only in the form of statistical totals.

On June 26, 27 and 28, Avco Systems Division in Wilmington, will host its second Invitational Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament for industrial teams within the state. The competition will be on a double-elimination basis and will feature several good amateur slow-pitch teams in the area.

The purpose of the tournament is to promote slow-pitch softball in this area, and at the same time to provide a source of top-level competition for those teams participating. Since slow-pitch softball is a game of action with strike-outs being the exception rather than the rule, it has become extremely popular throughout the country; both from a player's standpoint as well as a spectator's.

Among the teams participating this year are Gillette of Andover; Walbar Machinery of Peabody; General Electric of Lynn; O'Donnell and Usen of Gloucester; Sanders of Bedford; and Avco of Wilmington.

Avco faces Sanders in the first game Friday evening, June 26, at 6 p.m. The remaining games will be played from 10 a.m. through 6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

HEARING PROBLEMS?See THERESA MANZI AMORE - Certified Hearing Aid ConsultantIf you can't hear well, your problem requires corrective methods medically, acoustically or both. A hearing defect today is no different than a sight defect.
You owe it to yourself to have your hearing tested regularly, just as you have your eyes checked.
There is no charge for this service at the Sonotone office, in the Bay
State Building, Lawrence.Mrs. Theresa Manzi Amore, certified Hearing Aid Consultant, will give you a complete hearing test in your home or at her Sonotone office. Mrs. Amore, an Andover resident with a daughter who graduated from Abbot this month, has been affiliated with Sonotone, the House of Hearing, for 19 years. During this timeshe has brought happiness through the help of hearing to hundreds of people.Call any time and make an appointment for a free hearing check-up. Then Mrs. Amore will be able to evaluate your loss of hearing immediately and offer her expert advice concerning your hearing problem. If you require the attention of an M. D. you will be referred to one at once, or if you prefer, you may visit your
M. D. first.By prolonging or avoiding a hearing test when you suspect that you have a hearing problem, you are only making the impairment greater and actually depriving yourself of a normal life. Remember, a hearing defect affectsnot only your life, but the lives of your loved ones.If a hearing problem is taken care of early in life, it can open up a whole new world for a child.
Mrs. Amore has counseled many infants and children in this area.
In fact, children's hearing problems are her specialty. She has

ON TARGET. Sgt. Hector Pattullo watches Patrolman Roger Dufresne go through one of the target tests during the annual outdoor training the Andover police go through at the F.B.I. course at Camp Curtis Guild, Wakefield.

Police Complete Course

Members of the Andover police department have completed their annual course in outdoor target training.

All members of the department participated in the course conducted at the F.B.I. course at Camp Curtis Guild in Wakefield.

They fired on the practical pistol course and then went on to a familiarization course firing and handling the Thompson submachine gun and 12 gauge shotgun.

High scorers during the program were Patrolman Richard Enos who had 99 points and Patrolman Donald Howard who had 98.

Police Chief David L. Nicoll arranged the program on an annual basis to enable department members to retain proficiency in marksmanship.

The F.B.I. course provides simulated conditions under which firearms would be required.

Tobin Ends Infantry Training

Army Private Stephen J. F. Tobin, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Tobin, Jr., 40-A Washington Park Drive, recently completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During the guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-16 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

Tour Of Lots Is Proposed

Selectman Sidney P. White would like to start a guided tour of the controversial Lots 10 and 10A in the Lowell Junction Industrial Park.

The lots are tax title and being held by the selectmen although conservationists would like to have the board hand the acreage over to the Conservation Commission.

Following receipt of signed petitions from the Andover and Four Seasons Garden clubs, urging such action Monday night, White asked his colleagues, "How come these lots have become so important. For years no one knew they were there. Apparently they are just picking and choosing spots."

Selectman George Heseltine said he did not think people realized the value of the lots.

White then said he would like to take any townspeople interested to see the lots some morning, just to show where they are and their potential value.

The lots are located between the Gillette and Reichhold Chemical Co. Conservationists want the property to protect the Shawheen River which it borders. The selectmen have indicated that riverfront property will be protected.

The median income of Negro men 25 to 54 years old who have completed four years of high school was lower than that for white men in this age group who have completed only eight years of elementary school.

Participates In Exercise

Navy Petty Officer First Class James A. Morrison, husband of the former Miss Elaine E. Emmons of 9 Locke St., participated in exercise "Exotic Dancer III" while serving aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Guadalcanal, homeported at Norfolk, Va.

"Exotic Dancer III" was a three-week joint service training exercise involving an estimated 60,000 Navy, Marine Corps, Army and Air Force support troops, operating against an opposing force of additional Atlantic command units off the coast of North Carolina.
